BREMERTON POLICE INVESTIGATING LIKELY HOMICIDE

At 4:44 PM on Saturday night, Nov. 7, Bremerton Police Officers were called to a townhouse at the 100 block of Lebo Blvd. in East Bremerton. A neighbor had reported that he had found the 87 year old resident, who lived there alone, on the floor. Officers found the man deceased, with clear indications of foul play and violence.

Bremerton Police detectives and officers, along with Poulsbo, Bainbridge Island and Washington State Patrol detectives, are on the scene and are conducting a comprehensive investigation. The area had been blocked off and Oak Street north of Lebo Blvd. is expected to be closed for several hours.

“It is important for the neighborhood to know that our preliminary information indicates that this is likely not a random event,” said Bremerton Police Chief Steve Strachan. It is unlikely that there will be further information until tomorrow.
