

PEDESTRIAN SAFETY

Being a pedestrian can be risky business. According to the National Traffic Safety Administration, a pedestrian is injured in a traffic related collision on average every seven minutes. Below are a few simple guidelines that may help promote an increased level of awareness for pedestrians.

PEDESTRIANS:

- ◇ Remember the law! Pedestrians should cross at marked crosswalks and obey ALL traffic control devices. Unless specifically directed by a traffic control device, pedestrians should not cross diagonally in an intersection and are subject to a fine.
- ◇ Wear Bright Clothing. Remember that drivers may have difficulty seeing you - Especially in the dark.
- ◇ Watch for Obstructions. Be particularly cautious when stepping out from behind parked cars, poles and buildings that may hide you from a driver's sight.
- ◇ Stop and Look Both Ways Before Crossing the Street. Never run into the street.
- ◇ Walk Facing Traffic

DRIVERS:

- ◇ Remember to Yield! Pedestrians have the legal right of way in all intersections, whether marked or not.
- ◇ Remain Alert. With all of the distractions inside your car, remember to pay close attention to the pedestrians around you.
- ◇ Right Turns. Look for oncoming traffic and for pedestrians before making a right turn.
- ◇ LOOK! Use caution when approaching unmarked intersections.
- ◇ Obey school zone traffic laws!
