Bremerton Police Join the FBI in re-examining Cold Case Homicides

The Bremerton Police Department, in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announces they are the newest addition to the South Sound Cold Case Working Group. The Bremerton Police Department has begun consulting with the FBI and other task force members on a number of their currently open and active cold case investigations.

We are relentlessly pursuing leads that have been developed and are availing ourselves of a number of new investigative techniques. While we are reluctant to discuss all of our current investigative details and methods, there is no technology or resource that will not be fully exploited in order to identify those individuals responsible for these crimes.
