

URBAN FARMS & FOODBANKS

What's Working in Our Region

Hosted by Councilor Anna Mockler, District Six

Many people are growing food for themselves and extra for foodbanks. With local experts, we'll share what works and what's needed.

Presenters:

Diane Fish, GRACE program at Kitsap Conservation District – learn how they grow and distribute produce throughout Kitsap County. Their program is irrigated almost entirely by rainwater cisterns.

Erinn Hale, Bremerton Foodline – learn how the foodbank works and their progress in creating a community garden.
